Harvest 2024

The winter of 2024 in the Vinho Verde region experienced the highest average temperatures since 1931, but the rainfall at the beginning of the cycle helped to replenish the soil's water levels. Spring brought more rain, providing the necessary water for the vine cycle. The summer was hot and dry, but without extremes, favoring the ripening of the grapes. With immense quality, the result of very balanced ripening, this harvest resulted in wines with good presence, structure and a rich and persistent aromatic nature, combining minerality and fruit.

Winemaking Process

Aveleda Fonte Rosé is a Vinho Verde rosé presenting the typicity of the rosé wines produced in the region. The harvest is done at night to guarantee the freshness of the grapes and preserve their aromatic properties. This rosé is made by direct pressing method, where the grapes undergo gentle, low-pressure pressing, using only the teardrop must, to ferment. The alcoholic fermentation takes place in stainless steel vats at controlled temperatures to preserve the most typical aromas of the grape varieties.
